

Working with Anne Wall Centre

The Anne Wall Centre maintains close links with the local community and businesses in order to provide support for people to have work placements in various settings.

We are always looking for additional settings and additional work placements for individuals we support, and are currently looking for a work placement involving music or musical instruments. If you or someone you know are able to provide this placement or other placements, or wish to be considered to work alongside us, email us at awcenquiries@sense.org.uk and let us know.
