

Holidays

Sense holidays give deafblind people the chance to get away from it all, taste new experiences and have a lot of fun! They also give families a much-needed break from the often-demanding work of supporting a deafblind person.

- Holidays for people with congenital deafblindness Each year Sense organises around 25 summer holidays for over 120 deafblind children and adults. From canoeing to climbing - each holiday gives deafblind people the chance to have fun and try new experiences.
- Holidays for older people with hearing and sight loss The holiday plus is a week-long holiday for older people with acquired deafblindness who need additional support to access and enjoy a break.
