

Tactile markers

Tactile markers help you to gain information which would otherwise be displayed visually. They provide simple and effective ways of labelling everyday products around the home.

They can range from simple marks to braille symbols and can give detail about dials on household appliances or the contents of tins.

Product	Supplier	Product code	Price	Price	Postage
 Bump Ons These products are a simple and effective way to mark everyday items around the house. The raised bumps are supplied on self adhesive sheets and available in a range of sizes and colours for marking different equipment.	RNIB	DL17	£4.69		Free
 Slade primary colour indicating buttons This system of matching shapes with colours to form a shape colour code, gives people an instant and simple means of identifying colour. The system can be used for clothing through to distinguishing different items of medication.	RNIB	DH24	£0.82 for 5 buttons of the same shape and colour		Free
 Braille Labeller This device used in conjunction with dymo tape produces self-adhesive braille labels.	RNIB	DL65	£35.24		Free
 Dymo Tape This tape is for use with the Dymo gun. It is ideal for a variety of labelling uses and is available in clear and black.	RNIB	DL53 (clear) DL54 (black)	£1.40		Free
 Tacti-Mark A liquid plastic that sets hard to provide a tactile mark for people who are blind.	RNIB	DL55	£3.95		Free
 Day-glo orange tape Very bright tape to outline tables edges, switches, etc.	RNIB	DL55	£5.99		Free