

Deafblind manual alphabet

Also known as finger-spelling, the Deafblind Manual Alphabet is a method of spelling out words onto a deafblind person's hand. Each letter is denoted by a particular sign or place on the hand. Watch the video.

Although it does take some time to learn, the manual alphabet is faster to use than braille and more commonly used. The method of creating each letter is shown below:

Download the Deafblind Manual alphabet card in PDF format (627 KB)

Deafblind Manual on video

- Watch it on Flash video format

Add to Publications order form